'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of “misuse of powers” and said he had received “several complaints” which “raise doubts” on the Acting CJ’s “integrity”. Justice Mehta, who also hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be “forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct” and that not doing so would be “wholly against the interest of the institution”.

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma “outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench”. Seeking the appointment of a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, “The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates.”

Justice Mehta alleged that “pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions.”

Mamdami opposes RSS chief’s NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the “private” event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh’s (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations. “I don’t support the rally, but I don’t know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event,” Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief’s planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City’s (NYC) history, said his mother’s family is still in India.

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed. Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation’s ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry. Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India’s ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India’s innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization’s Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connection and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension. The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India’s scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden’s century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India’s transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another. *Morgan Stanley Research Report

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of “misuse of powers” and said he had received “several complaints” which “raise doubts” on the Acting CJ’s “integrity”.

Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be “forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct” and that not doing so would be “wholly against the interest of the institution”.

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma “outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench”.

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, “The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates.”

Justice Mehta alleged that “pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions.”

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation's ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry.

Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Mamdami opposes RSS chief's NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the “private” event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh's (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

“I don’t support the rally, but I don’t know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event,” Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief’s planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City’s (NYC) history, said his mother’s family is still in India.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India’s ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India’s innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization’s Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India’s scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden’s century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India’s transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be “forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct” and that not doing so would be “wholly against the interest of the institution”.

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma “outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench”.

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, “The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates.”

Justice Mehta alleged that “pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions.”

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

■ RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation's ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry.

Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Mamdami opposes RSS chief's NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the “private” event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh's (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

“I don't support the rally, but I don't know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event,” Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief's planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City's (NYC) history, said his mother's family is still in India.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India's ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India's innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization's Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connection and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India's scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden's century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India's transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of “misuse of powers” and said he had received “several complaints” which “raise doubts” on the Acting CJ’s “integrity”.

Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be “forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct” and that not doing so would be “wholly against the interest of the institution”.

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma “outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench”.

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, “The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates.”

Justice Mehta alleged that “pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions.”

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation’s ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry.

Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India’s ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India’s innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization’s Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India’s scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden’s century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India’s transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of “misuse of powers” and said he had received “several complaints” which “raise doubts” on the Acting CJ’s “integrity”.

Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be “forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct” and that not doing so would be “wholly against the interest of the institution”.

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma “outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench”.

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, “The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates.”

Justice Mehta alleged that “pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions.”

Mamdami opposes RSS chief’s NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the “private” event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh’s (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

“I don’t support the rally, but I don’t know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event,” Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief’s planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City’s (NYC) history, said his mother’s family is still in India.

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation’s ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

lution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India’s ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India’s innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization’s Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India’s scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden’s century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India’s transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of "misuse of powers" and said he had received "several complaints" which "raise doubts" on the Acting CJ's "integrity". Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be "forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct" and that not doing so would be "wholly against the interest of the institution".

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma "outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench".

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, "The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates."

Justice Mehta alleged that "pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions."

Mamdami opposes RSS chief's NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the "private" event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh's (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

"I don't support the rally, but I don't know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event," Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief's planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City's (NYC) history, said his mother's family is still in India.

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation's ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry.

Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India's ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India's innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization's Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India's scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden's century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India's transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of "misuse of powers" and said he had received "several complaints" which "raise doubts" on the Acting CJ's "integrity". Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be "forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct" and that not doing so would be "wholly against the interest of the institution".

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma "outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench".

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, "The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates."

Justice Mehta alleged that "pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions."

Mamdami opposes RSS chief's NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the "private" event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh's (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

"I don't support the rally, but I don't know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event," Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief's planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City's (NYC) history, said his mother's family is still in India.

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation's ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

lution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India's ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India's innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization's Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India's scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden's century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India's transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

'Misuse of power': SC judge seeks transfer of HC justice

ANANTHAKRISHNAN G & HAMZA KHAN
New Delhi, Jaipur, August 26

IN A HIGHLY unusual development, Justice Sandeep Mehta of the Supreme Court wrote three letters to Chief Justice of India Surya Kant earlier this month, seeking the transfer of Justice SP Sharma, Acting Chief Justice of Rajasthan High Court, to another High Court and the appointment of a new Chief Justice.

In his letters to the CJI — which were written on August 2, August 10 and August 17 and also copied to other members of the Supreme Court Collegium — Justice Mehta accused Justice Sharma of "misuse of powers" and said he had received "several complaints" which "raise doubts" on the Acting CJ's "integrity".

Justice Mehta, who also

hails from Rajasthan, requested that Justice Sharma be "forthwith transferred out of the State looking to his unbecoming conduct" and that not doing so would be "wholly against the interest of the institution".

Phone calls to the Registrar General of the Rajasthan High Court for comment did not elicit a response.

Incidentally, on Tuesday, Ranjeet Joshi, president of the Rajasthan High Court Advocates Association of Jodhpur, also wrote to the CJI, urging him to consider the transfer of Justice Sharma "outside the state of Rajasthan... so that a harmonious atmosphere can be re-established between the Bar and the Bench".

Seeking the appointment of

a permanent Chief Justice, Joshi said, "The lack of communication and treatment of advocates is leading to frequent disagreements and conflicts between the Bar and the Bench, which is detrimental to the smooth functioning of the Bar and the Bench. Furthermore, there are also issues regarding the basic needs of advocates, such as providing small chambers/meeting spaces (e.g., 10x10 feet tin sheds), for which the expected cooperation is not being received, due to which there is dissatisfaction among the advocates."

Justice Mehta alleged that "pursuant to taking charge as the Acting Chief Justice of the Rajasthan High Court, Mr. Justice Sharma has exhibited total lack of leadership qualities and behaviour unbecoming of a leader of the institution on more than one occasions."

Mamdami opposes RSS chief's NY event

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New York, August 26

NEW YORK CITY Mayor Zohran Mamdani has said he does not support the planned event at Madison Square Garden featuring RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat, who is scheduled to address the Indian diaspora later this week.

Mamdani, however, noted that the city may not have jurisdiction to cancel the "private" event.

Bhagwat, who arrived in the US on Tuesday, is visiting the country as part of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh's (RSS) centenary-year global outreach programme. His outreach tour also includes Canada and the UK.

In the US, he is scheduled to address a gathering of around 5,000 people at the Madison Square Garden (MSG) on August 29.

The planned appearance has drawn criticism from several civil rights organisations.

New York City Mayor Zohran Mamdani

"I don't support the rally, but I don't know if the city has any jurisdiction on cancelling a private event," Mamdani said at a press conference in New York on Tuesday, responding to a question on the RSS chief's planned event and protests against it.

The Indian-origin mayor was asked whether the MSG event should be cancelled.

Mamdani, who described himself as the first Indian-American mayor in New York City's (NYC) history, said his mother's family is still in India.

Why global competitiveness now runs through India

RICKARD GUSTAFSON

DURING MY VISITS to our engineering centres and operations in India, I am constantly struck by how seamlessly discussions move between precision mechanical systems, software, data and artificial intelligence (AI). A country long viewed primarily as a manufacturing base is increasingly becoming a core hub where global industrial solutions are conceived, developed, and scaled. That shift says as much about the future of global industry as it does about India itself.

The new industrial imperative: Resilience over pure cost

For much of the past three decades, the competitive logic of global industry was straightforward: locate production where scale and cost were advantageous, build efficient supply chains and serve growing markets. While that model delivered enormous gains, the underlying conditions have changed.

Geopolitical fragmentation, energy security, technological disruption and the transition to a lower-carbon economy now force industries to optimise for something far more demanding than efficiency alone, requiring resilience without sacrificing competitiveness. Multipolarity, localisation and automation have become structural features of the current investment cycle, driven by accelerating capital deployment in power, renewables, grid infrastructure, railways, defence, and advanced technology.

Fusing physical systems with digital intelligence

This evolution changes the nature of industrial leadership. For instance, a modern wind turbine combines advanced materials, precision bearings, sensors, software, and predictive analytics. Its performance depends not on any single component, but on how these technologies operate as a unified system. The same holds true for a modern railway, a renewable power grid, or an automated production line. The factory floor has become the primary intersection of the physical and digital worlds.

In a more complex environment, competitiveness increasingly depends on an organisation's ability to reduce friction across systems, processes and value chains. That friction typically manifests as unplanned downtime, energy losses, fragmented data, disconnected decision-making, and operational inefficiency. As modern industries grow more complex, the task is to ensure that complexity does not turn into friction. And the organisations that solve this challenge will lead the market.

Redefining innovation & customer value

Achieving this requires a different model of innovation. For industrial companies, this means connecting engineering expertise, product development, operational data, and customer insights around real-world problems. This shift directly reflects changing customer priorities.

Having worked closely with customers across manufacturing, mobility, renewable energy, and infrastructure, I see that reliability, uptime, energy productivity and asset life matter just as much as individual product specifications. Technologies create true value only when they improve tangible outcomes such as sensors that prevent failures, AI that supports better engineering decisions, and digital tools that eliminate waste.

Sustainability as a core competitive driver

This is where sustainability

becomes inseparable from competitiveness. Extending the useful life of equipment, using less energy for the same output, predicting maintenance before failure and reducing unnecessary material consumption are simultaneously economic and environmental gains. In industrial operations, the most sustainable solution is almost always the most productive one. Similarly, innovation that enables industry to do more with fewer resources will prove far more durable than treating sustainability as a compliance obligation.

India matters increasingly to this industrial future because its role in the global economy is changing. The country has long been recognised as a powerful growth market and a reservoir of technological talent. It is now developing another identity: a partner in building, engineering, and increasingly innovating for global industry.

Having led an industrial company with deep roots in India, I have observed this evolution firsthand. Operations here have moved from manufacturing at scale toward direct engineering ownership and complex problem-solving for global customers.

Global accountability, led from India

Increasingly, global mandates, product ownership, engineering accountability and innovation programmes are being led from India rather than merely supported from it. This shift reflects growing confidence in India's ability to shape outcomes, not just execute them.

With capital investment in India projected to rise 1.8 times by FY30 to approx $2.2 trillion* across energy, infrastructure, manufacturing and advanced technologies, the real story lies in its concurrent breadth. Power systems, transport networks, digital infrastructure and industrial capacity are advancing simultaneously, creating the exact multi-domain complexity that modern industry must learn to integrate.

Bridging research, talent, and industrial execution

India's innovation metrics highlight both current strengths and future opportunities. Ranked 38th in World Intellectual Property Organization's Global Innovation Index, India stands out as an exceptionally efficient innovator, generating strong output relative to its input base. The next leap forward will come from tightening the connections and bridging universities and factories, research and commercialisation, software and physical engineering and capital with patient experimentation. Globally, leading industrial companies are building integrated technology centres where digital, software, and AI capabilities converge to solve operational challenges. India is uniquely positioned to lead this shift, serving as a primary hub where engineering accountability and customer value are created directly.

A bilateral framework for global impact

There is also an important international dimension.

The strategic partnership between India and Sweden focused on economic security, supply chain resilience, innovation, climate, and trade provides a clear framework to double bilateral commerce and investment. The two nations offer distinct, complementary strengths: India's scale, agility, and software talent combined with Sweden's century-long tradition of industrial engineering and manufacturing excellence. The true opportunity lies in combining these strengths to address complex global industrial challenges.

India's transition to an innovation partner is creating an ecosystem where manufacturing, engineering, digital technology, and human capability continuously reinforce one another.

साताऱ्यात साखरेचा काळाबाजार, पुरवठा विभागाचे छापे

सातारा : गगनाला भिडलेल्या साखरेच्या दराचा फायदा घेत जिल्ह्यात रेशनिंगच्या साखरेचा काळाबाजार सुरू असल्याचे उघडकीस आले आहे. दारिद्रेचरेपेखालील गरीब कुटुंबांसाठी राखीव असलेली रेशनिंगची साखर खुल्या बाजारात विकणाऱ्या कर्मवीर कॉलनी, राधिका रोड परिसरातील एका किराणा दुकानावर जिल्हा पुरवठा विभागाने छापे टाकले.

या कारवाईत ‘महाराष्ट्र शासन’ असा छाप असलेली ३०० किलो (२०७ किलो निव्वळ साठा) साखर जप्त केली असून, दुकानदाराविरुद्ध गुन्हा दाखल केला आहे. नफखोरीसाठी व्यापाऱ्यांकडून साठेबाजी सुरू असतानाच, अंत्योदय योजनेतून गरिबांना दिली जाणारी साखर खासगी दुकानात विक्रीसाठी येत असल्याच्या तक्रारी वाढल्या होत्या. या माहितीच्या आधारे जिल्हा पुरवठा विभागाने कर्मवीर कॉलनीतील ‘स्वामी समर्थ किराणा अँड जनरल स्टोअर्स’ वर छाप टाकला.

नांदेडमध्ये वाजपेयींचा पुतळा

नांदेड : काँग्रेसमधून भाजपमध्ये गेलेले माजी मुख्यमंत्री, खासदार अशोक चव्हाण यांच्या पुढाकारातून नांदेड महापालिकेतर्फे माजी पंतप्रधान अटल बिहारी वाजपेयी यांच्या पुतळ्याची उभारणी होत आहे. सुमारे आठ महिन्यांपूर्वी नांदेड-वाघाळा महापालिकामध्ये भाजपची सत्ता आल्यानंतर पहिल्याच सभेमध्ये भारतरत्न अटल बिहारी वाजपेयी यांचा पुतळा उभारण्यासंदर्भातील ठराव केला होता.

पुतळ्यासाठी नवीन कौठा भागात निश्चित केलेली जागा मनपाकडे अद्याप हस्तांतरित झाली नसली, तरी पूर्णांकृती पुतळा २५ डिसेंबरपर्यंत उभारण्यासाठी प्राप्त निविदांतील राम सुतार आर्ट्सची निविदा नुकतीच स्वीकारण्यात आली. ४० लाखांहून अधिक रक्कम त्यासाठी खर्च केला जाणार आहे.

माणगाव बाह्यवळणाचे काम गणेशोत्सवापूर्वी अशक्य!

महामार्ग दुरुवस्थेवरून आदित्य ठाकरेंची टीका

लोकसत्ता विशेष प्रतिनिधी

अलिबाग : मुंबई-गोवा महामार्गाची दुरुवस्था तसेच दहा वर्षांपासून रखडलेल्या कामावरून शिवसेनेचे (ठाकरे) आमदार आदित्य ठाकरे यांनी बुधवारी सरकारवर टीका केली. महामार्गाचे काम पूर्ण करण्यासाठी केवळ आश्वासने दिली जातात; मात्र प्रत्यक्षात काम पूर्ण होत नाही. गणेशोत्सव तोंडावर आला असताना माणगाव बाह्यवळणाचे काम अद्याप पूर्ण झालेले नाही. त्यासाठी आणखी सहा महिने लागतील, असा दावा ठाकरे यांनी केला.

पेण तालुक्यातील डोलवी येथे आदित्य ठाकरे यांनी मुंबई-गोवा महामार्गाची पाहणी केली.

काँक्रीटच्या रस्त्यावरील खड्डे आणि भुयारी मार्गात साचलेले पाणी पाहून ठाकरे यांनी संताप व्यक्त केला. महामार्ग दुरुवस्थेवरून सरकारला धारेवर धरताना ठाकरे म्हणाले, पालकमंत्रीपद, मंत्रिपद, बंगला आणि गाडीवरून सत्ताधारी भांडतात, मात्र रस्ते दुरुवस्थेवर आवाज कोण उठवणार? कंत्राटदार पळून जाणार असतील तर सरकारचा काय उपयोग, असा सवाल त्यांनी केला. केंद्र सरकारकडून महामार्गाचे जाळे विस्तारत असल्याचे सांगितले जाते. मात्र मुंबई-गोवा, मुंबई-अहमदाबाद आणि मुंबई-नाशिकसारखे खराब महामार्ग अन्त्यत्र कुठेही पाहायला मिळणार नाहीत, अशी टीका त्यांनी केली.

पुणे : महाराष्ट्र लोकसेवा आयोगाने (एमपीएससी) घेतलेल्या औषध निरीक्षक पदभरतीचे पेपर फुटल्याचे स्पष्ट झाले आहे. त्यामुळे आयोगाचे

अध्यक्ष आणि सचिव यांनी नैतिक जबाबदारी स्वीकारून राजीनामा द्यावा अन्त्या विद्यार्थ्यांसह १ सप्टेंबर रोजी आंदोलन करण्याचा इशारा आमदार रोहित पवार यांनी दिला. अन्न व औषध प्रशासन विभागातील औषध निरीक्षक, गट-ब या संवर्गासाठी घेतलेल्या परीक्षेत पेपरफुटी झाल्याचे आरोप झाले होते. या प्रकरणी गुन्हे अन्वेषण शाखेने तपास करून ‘एमपीएससी’ला अहवाल सादर केला. त्यात पेपरफुटी झाल्याचे निष्पक्ष नोंदवल्याने

सखोल चौकशी करा- जयंत पाटील

मुंबई : औषध निरीक्षक पेपरफुटीचे प्रकरण गंभीर आहे. याला नेमके कोण जबाबदार आहे ? पेपर फोडणारे खरे सूत्रधार कोण आहेत, त्यांनी हा पेपर का फोडला, याची सखोल चौकशी झालीच पाहिजे. दोषींवर कारवाई करावी, अशी मागणी जयंत पाटील यांनी केली. सुरुवातीला नकारघटा वाजवून आता परीक्षा रद्द करणाऱ्या आयोगाच्या या भूमिकेने विद्यार्थ्यांच्या भविष्याशी खेळखंडोबा होत असल्याने जयंत पाटील यांनी संताप व्यक्त केला.

कठोर कारवाई व्हावी- काँग्रेस

महाराष्ट्र प्रदेश युवक काँग्रेसनेही ‘एमपीएससी’चे अध्यक्ष, सचिवांच्या राजीनाम्याची मागणी केली.प्रमुख दोषींवर कठोर कायदेशीर व्हावी. अध्यक्ष, सचिवांनी जबाबदारी स्वीकारून राजीनामा द्यावा. भविष्यात पेपरफुटीच्या घटना पुन्हा होऊ नयेत यासाठी ‘एमपीएससी’, राज्य सरकार कायमस्वरूपी कोणत्या ठोस उपाययोजना करणार, याचे उत्तर सरकारने द्यावे,’ असे युवक काँग्रेसचे प्रसारमाध्यम विभाग अध्यक्ष अक्षय जैन म्हणाले.

‘एमपीएससी’ने ही परीक्षा रद्द करण्याचा निर्णय घेतला. या पार्श्वभूमीवर पवार यांनी पुण्यातील नवी पेठ येथे स्पर्धा परीक्षार्थ्यांशी संवाद साधला. ‘एफआयआर’ नोंदवला आहे.

पवार म्हणाले, ‘पेपरफुटीत तीन

हजार कंत्राटी कामगार आहेत. कंत्राट प्रक्रिया वेळेवर न होणे, वेतन उभार मिळणे, बोनस, वेतनवाढीचा फरक न मिळणे, वेतनातील काही रक्कम रोखून ठेवणे अशा कामगारांच्या तक्रारी आहेत. या प्रश्नांना विरोध करणाऱ्यांना कामावरून कमी करणे किंवा बदली करणे, असे प्रकार होत असल्याचा संघटनेचा आरोप आहे.

सरकार दिलेला शब्द पाळत नाही. मेस्मा लावून कामगारांची मुस्कटदाबी केली जात आहे. प्रश्नांवर चर्चा करून तोंडगा काढण्याऐवजी आंदोलनाचा अधिकार मर्यादित करण्याचा हा प्रकार आहे. कंत्राटी वीज कामगारांचे प्रश्न तातडीने सोडवायला हवेत. - नीलेश खरात, प्रदेशाध्यक्ष, महाराष्ट्र वीज कंत्राटी कामगार संघ

कंत्राटी कामगार संघ संतप्त झाला आहे. आंदोलन रोखण्यासाठी शासनाने ‘मेस्माची चाल’ वापरली का, असा प्रश्न केला आहे.

भारतीय संघ विजयासमीप ‘फॉलोऑन’नंतर श्रीलंकेचा प्रतिकार अपुरा ठरण्याची चिन्हे

वृत्तसंस्था, कोलंबो

सोनल दिनुशाच्या (१६२ चेंडूंत १०३) झुंजार खेळीनंतरही यजमान श्रीलंकेवर ‘फॉलोऑन’ची नामुष्की ओढवली. त्यानंतर दुसऱ्या डावात नवेदित पसिंदू सूरियाबंडारा (१७३ चेंडूंत ९२) याच्यासह श्रीलंकेच्या मधल्या फळीतील अन्य फलंदाजांनीही भारतीय गोलंदाजांचा चिवट प्रतिकार केला. मात्र, भारतीय गोलंदाजांनी संयम राखून प्रभावी मारा करताना ठरावीक अंतराने गडी बाद केले. त्यामुळे दुसऱ्या कसोटी क्रिकेट सामन्याच्या चौथ्या दिवसअखेर श्रीलंकेकडे केवळ १६ धावांची आघाडी होती आणि त्यांनी सहा गडी गमावले होते. आता पाचव्या दिवशी श्रीलंकेचा डाव झटपट गुंडाळून मालिका विजय साजरा करण्याची भारताकडे संधी आहे.

कोलंबो येथे सुरू असलेल्या या सामन्यात भारताच्या ५०३ धावांच्या प्रत्युत्तरात श्रीलंकेचा पहिला डाव २९० धावांवर आटोपला. श्रीलंकेचा संघ २१३ धावांनी पिछाडीवर असल्याने भारताने त्यांना ‘फॉलोऑन’ देत पुन्हा फलंदाजीचे निमंत्रण दिले. दुसऱ्या डावात श्रीलंकेच्या फलंदाजांनी कामगिरीत सुधारणा केली. एका क्षणी श्रीलंकेचा संघ ३ बाद २०९ असा सुस्थितीत होता. पिछाडी भरून काढण्यासाठी त्यांना केवळ चार धावांची गरज होती आणि सात गडी शिल्लक होते. मात्र, त्यानंतर कर्णधार धनंजय डी सिल्वा (२३), सूरियाबंडारा आणि निरोशन डिकवेला (६) झटपट बाद झाल्याने श्रीलंकेचा संघ पुन्हा अडचणीत सापडला. पावसामुळे दिवसाचा खेळ

२८ कसोटी क्रिकेटमध्ये श्रीलंकेवर २८व्यांदा ‘फॉलोऑन’ची नामुष्की ओढवली. यापूर्वी ‘फॉलोऑन’ मिळाल्यानंतर त्यांनी २४ सामन्यांत हार पत्करली असून केवळ तीन सामने अनिर्णित राखण्यात त्यांना यश आले आहे.

लवकर थांबवण्यात आला. त्यावेळी श्रीलंकेची ६ बाद २२९ अशी धावसंख्या होती. दिवसअखेर सोनल दिनुशा (नाबाद ७) आणि केशरा नुवाथा (नाबाद ३) खेळपट्टीवर होते.

सूरियाबंडाराचा लढा
श्रीलंकेच्या दुसऱ्या डावात सूरियाबंडाराने कामिल मिशारा (३९ चेंडूंत ३२) याच्यासह दुसऱ्या गड्यासाठी ५८ धावांची, तर कामिंदू मॅडिस (९२ चेंडूंत ५५) याच्यासह तिसऱ्या गड्यासाठी ११५ धावांची भागीदारी केली. या भागीदाऱ्यांमुळे भारतीय गोलंदाजांवर दडपण निर्माण झाले. मात्र, अखेरच्या सत्रात

संक्षिप्त धावफलक
भारत (पहिला डाव) : ९ बाद ७०३ घोषित
श्रीलंका (पहिला डाव) : ८९.४ षटकांत सर्वबाद २९० (सोनल दिनुशा १०३, पसिंदू सूरियाबंडारा ८०, कामिंदू मॅडिस ३२; प्रसिध कृष्णा ३/७२, मानव सुथार ३/८५, सारांश जैन २/६९)
श्रीलंका (दुसरा डाव) : ७२.४ षटकांत ६ बाद २२९ (पसिंदू सूरियाबंडारा ९२, कामिंदू मॅडिस ७५, कामिल मिशारा ३२; मानव सुथार २/८१, मोहम्मद सिराज १/११, प्रसिध कृष्णा १/३१)

‘नो-बॉल’ची चिंता : भारतीय फिरकीपटूंनी या कसोटीत आतापर्यंत १० नो-बॉल टाकले असून ही चिंताजनक बाब असल्याचे भारताचे फिरकी गोलंदाजी प्रशिक्षक साईराज बहुतुले म्हणाले. तसेच मर्यादित षटकांच्या क्रिकेटप्रमाणे कसोटीतही ‘नो-बॉल’नंतरच्या चेंडूवर ‘फ्री-हिट’ देण्याचा नियम लागू करण्याचा पर्याय बहुतुले यांनी सुचवला आहे. यामुळे ‘नो-बॉल’ टाकण्याच्या सवयीला आळा घातला जाऊ शकेल, असे बहुतुले यांना वाटते.

धावांवरून पुढे खेळण्यास सुरुवात केली. ‘फॉलोऑन’ टाळण्यासाठी त्यांना आणखी ३९ धावांची गरज होती. आदल्या दिवशीच्या ८५ धावांवरून पुढाे खेळणाऱ्या सोनल दिनुशाने शानदार फलंदाजी करत मालिकेतील दुसरे शतक साकारले. मात्र, त्याच्या शतकानंतरही श्रीलंकेला ‘फॉलोऑन’ टाळता आला नाही. पदारपणवीर ऑफ-स्पिनर सारांश जैनने लाहिरू कुमारा (१२) आणि दिनुशा यांना बाद करत कसोटी कारकीर्दीतील पहिले दोन बळी मिळवले.

गोलंदाजी क्रमवारीत स्टार्क अग्रस्थानी

दुबई : बांगलादेशविरुद्धच्या मालिकेतील दुसऱ्या सामन्यात दहा गडी बाद करणारा ऑस्ट्रेलियाचा वेगवान गोलंदाज मिचेल स्टार्क याने कारकीर्दीत प्रथमच ‘आयसीसी’च्या कसोटी क्रमवारीतील गोलंदाजांच्या यादीत अग्रस्थान मिळवले आहे. स्टार्कने पहिल्या डावात १२ धावांत सहा, तर दुसऱ्या डावात ३९ धावांत चार बळी घेतले. या शानदार कामगिरीमुळे त्याने न्यूझीलंडचा मॅट हेन्री आणि भारताचा जसप्रीत बुमरा यांना मागे टाकले. फलंदाजांत इंग्लंडच्या हॅरी ब्रूकने आपले अव्वल स्थान आणखी भक्कम केले आहे. तो जो रुटपेक्षा २४ गुणांनी पुढे आहे. भारताचा यष्टिरक्षक-फलंदाज ऋषभ पंत सहा स्थानांची प्रगती करत सातव्या स्थानी पोहोचला आहे. केएल राहुल पाच स्थानांची प्रगती करत ३०व्या स्थानी पोहोचला आहे. सोनल दिनुशा ५४व्या, तर देवदत्त पडिक्कल ५९व्या स्थानी आहे.

वॉड चेंस टूऱ अंतिम टप्पा

सेंट लुईस : ‘ग्रँड चेंस टूऱ’च्या अंतिम टप्प्यातील स्पर्धेच्या जेतेपदाच्या लढतीत पहिल्या पारंपरिक डावात भारताचा ग्रँडमास्टर आर. प्रज्ञानंदला पराभव पत्करावा लागला. अमेरिकेचा अनुभवी ग्रँडमास्टर फॅबियानो कारुआना याने प्रज्ञानंदला नमवत अंतिम लढतीत ६-० अशी आघाडी घेतली. काळ्या मोहऱ्यांनी खेळताना प्रज्ञानंदने सुरुवातीपासूच चांगली झुंज दिली, पण २८व्या चालीतील घोडचुकीचा त्याला मोठा फटका बसला आणि त्याने डाव गमावला. ‘इटालियन ओपनिंग’मुळे

भारतीय महिला हॉकी संघ पाचव्या स्थानासाठी प्रयत्नशील

वृत्तसंस्था, अॅम्सटेलवीन

उपांत्य फेरीतील स्थान हुकल्याची निराशा मागे सारत भारतीय महिला संघ आज, गुरुवारी विश्वचषक हॉकी स्पर्धेतील वर्गीकरण सामन्यात जर्मनीविरुद्ध पाचव्या स्थानासाठी मैदानात उतरेल. भारताने या स्पर्धेत आतापर्यंत केवळ एक सामना गमावला आहे. दोन वेळच्या माजी विजेत्या जर्मनीविरुद्धच्या सामन्याचा निकाल काहीही लागला, तरी १९७४ मधील पहिल्या विश्वचषकातील चौथ्या स्थानानंतरची भारताची ही सर्वोत्तम कामगिरी ठरणार आहे. भारतीय संघासाठी हा सामना अन्यही कारणासाठी विशेष महत्त्वाचा आहे. या स्पर्धेतील प्रभावी कामगिरीमुळे मिळलेला

आत्मविश्वास पुढील महिन्यात होणाऱ्या आशियाई क्रीडा स्पर्धेसाठी उपयुक्त ठरेल. आशियाई स्पर्धेत सुवर्णपदक जिंकणाऱ्या संघाला लॉस एंजलिस ऑलिम्पिकसाठी थेट पात्रता मिळणार आहे. भारतीय संघातील तब्बल ११ खेळाडू प्रथमच विश्वचषक स्पर्धेत सहभागी झाल्या. त्यामुळे त्यांची

आतापर्यंतची कामगिरी निश्चितच प्रभावी आहे. मात्र, जर्मनीविरुद्ध त्यांच्यासमोर अधिक कठीण आव्हान असेल. गोलरक्षक बिचू देवी आणि सविता यांनी संपूर्ण स्पर्धेत बचावात महत्त्वाची भूमिका बजावली आहे. कर्णधार सलिमा टेटेने वेगवान आणि आक्रमक चढायांनी प्रभाव पाडला आहे. सुनेलिता टोप्पो, साक्षी आणि नेहा यांनी मधल्या फळीत स्थैर्य दिले आहे. युवा खेळाडू इशिका आणि बलजीत यांच्यासह अनुभवी नवनीत कौर, दीपिका आणि लालरेमसियामी यांनीही आक्रमणात छाप पाडली. त्यांच्यावरच भारताची भिस्त असेल. ● वेळ : सायंकाळी ६.३० वा. ● थेट प्रक्षेपण : स्टार स्पोर्ट्स २, जिओहॉटस्टार ॲप.

दक्षिण आशियाई स्पर्धा पाकिस्तानात

कराची : सहा वर्षांच्या विलंबानंतर दक्षिण आशियाई क्रीडा स्पर्धा पुढील वर्षी ३ ते ११ एप्रिलदरम्यान पाकिस्तानात आयोजित केल्या जाणार आहेत. इस्लामाबाद, लाहोर आणि पेशावर येथे या स्पर्धा होतील. दक्षिण आशियाई ऑलिम्पिक परिषदेच्या इस्लामाबाद येथे झालेल्या बैठकीत हा निर्णय झाला. पूर्वनिर्घोजित कार्यक्रमानुसार या स्पर्धा २०२१ मध्ये घेणे अपेक्षित होते. मात्र, करोनानंतर विविध कारणांमुळे या स्पर्धा पुढे ढकलण्यात आल्या. आता पाकिस्तानला २००४ नंतर प्रथमच या स्पर्धेच्या आयोजनाचा मान मिळाला आहे.

फेडररचे टेनिस कोर्टवर भावनिक पुनरागमन

न्युयॉर्क : वलयांकित टेनिसपटू रॉजर फेडरर याला पुन्हा एकदा ‘आर्थर अ‍ॅश’ कोर्टवर खेळताना पाहण्याचा अनुभव चाहत्यांसाठी भावनिक ठरला. अमेरिकन खुल्या ग्रँडस्लॅम स्पर्धेपूर्वी ‘ॲन आयकॉन रिटर्न्स टू न्युयॉर्क’ या विशेष सोहळ्यांतर्गत फेडरर आणि त्याचा जुना सहकारी ॲंडी रॉडिक कोर्टवर उतरले. २० ग्रँडस्लॅम विजेत्या फेडररचे मैदानावर आगमन होताच प्रेक्षकांनी उभे राहून टाळ्यांच्या कडकडाटात त्याचे स्वागत केले. एक सेटचा प्रदर्शनीय सामना फेडररने ६-३ असा जिंकला. त्यानंतर दुहेरीत फेडरर आणि जॉन मॅकेग्रा जोडीने रॉडिक आणि अ‍ॅन्ड्रे आगासी जोडीला ७-५ असे नमवले. निवृत्तीच्या वेळी चाहत्यांचा निरोप घेण्याची संधी न मिळाल्याने फेडरर या पुनरागमनाने भावुक झाला.

राज्य कबड्डी संघटनेवर प्रशासक तीन महिन्यांत निवडणूक घेण्याचे सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाचे आदेश

पुणे : भारतीय कबड्डी क्षेत्रात मोठे योगदान देणारी आणि प्रदीर्घ परंपरा जणपारी महाराष्ट्र राज्य कबड्डी संघटना अंतर्गत कलहामुळे आता निर्णायक वळणावर आली आहे. इतिहासात प्रथमच संघटनेवर प्रशासक नियुक्त करण्याची वेळ आली आहे. कार्यकारिणीचा कार्यकाळ संपल्यानंतरही निवडणूक न घेता कामकाज सुरू ठेवल्याप्रकरणी माजी कबड्डीपटू सचिन भोसले यांनी सर्वोच्च न्यायालयात याचिका दाखल केली होती. गेल्या दोन वर्षांपासून सुरू असलेल्या या याचिकेच्या सुनावणीदरम्यान सध्याच्या कार्यकारिणीतील गजानन कीर्तीकर आणि मंगल पांडे यांच्या गटाने केंद्र सरकारच्या क्रीडा आचारसंहितेनुसार निवडणूक घेण्याची तयारी असल्याचे प्रतिज्ञापत्र सादर केले होते. या प्रतिज्ञापत्राची दखल घेत सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाचे न्यायमूर्ती एम.एम.सुंदरेश आणि न्यायमूर्ती प्रसन्न वराळे यांच्या खंडपीठाने मंगळवारी

नवे चेहरे दिसणार?
- सर्वोच्च न्यायालयाच्या निर्णयामुळे आणि क्रीडा संहितेच्या पालनामुळे राज्य कबड्डी संघटनेच्या आगामी कार्यकारिणीत नवे चेहरे दिसण्याची शक्यता आहे. संहितेनुसार उमेदवारांचे वय २७ वर्षापेक्षा अधिक आणि ७० वर्षापेक्षा कमी असणे आवश्यक आहे. तसेच संघटनेवर तीन कार्यकाळ पूर्ण केलेल्यांना पुन्हा संधी मिळणार नाही. मात्र, या तरतुदीच्या व्याप्तीबाबत संघटकांमध्ये मतभेद आहेत. - काहींच्या मते तीन कार्यकाळांची मर्यादा केवळ अध्यक्ष, सचिव	आणि कोषाध्यक्ष या पदांसाठी लागू आहे, तर काहींच्या मते ती संपूर्ण कार्यकारिणीला लागू होते. त्यामुळे अनेक वर्षे संघटनेत विविध पदांवर कार्यरत असलेल्या पदाधिकाऱ्यांच्या भवि्तव्यावर प्रश्नचिन्ह निर्माण झाले आहे. याशिवाय कार्यकारिणीत खेळाडूंना प्रतिनिधित्व देणेही अनिवार्य असल्याने आगामी निवडणुकीत माजी खेळाडूंना महत्त्वाची संधी मिळण्याची शक्यता आहे. त्यामुळे राज्य कबड्डी संघटनेचे नेतृत्व यावेळी एखाद्या माजी खेळाडूकडे जाऊ शकते.

महाराष्ट्र राज्य कबड्डी संघटनेवर प्रशासकाची नियुक्ती केली. मुंबई उच्च न्यायालयाचे निवृत्त न्यायमूर्ती पृथ्वीराज चव्हाण यांची प्रशासक म्हणून नियुक्ती करण्यात आली आहे. राष्ट्रीय क्रीडा संहिता २०२५ तसेच भारतीय हौशी कबड्डी महासंघाच्या निर्देशांनुसार तीन महिन्यांत राज्य

पश्चिम विभाग गारद

दुलीप करंडकात उत्तर विभाग उपांत्य फेरीत

बंगळूरु : अबीद मुश्ताक (४/६०) आणि निशांत सिंधू (२/५९) या डावखुऱ्या फिरकी गोलंदाजांच्या प्रभावी माऱ्याच्या जोरावर उत्तर विभागाने पश्चिम विभाग संघाचा ५२ धावांनी पराभव करत दुलीप करंडक क्रिकेट स्पर्धेच्या उपांत्य फेरीत स्थान मिळवले. पश्चिम विभागाचे आव्हान संपुष्टात आले, तर उत्तरेची आता दक्षिण विभागाशी गाठ पडेल.

उत्तर विभागाने दिलेल्या २८७ धावांच्या आव्हानाचा पाठलाग करताना पश्चिम विभागाने अखेरच्या दिवशी ७ बाद २२० धावांवरून पुढे खेळण्यास सुरुवात केली. त्यांना ६७ धावांची गरज होती. मात्र, पश्चिम विभागाचे तळाचे फलंदाज पूर्णपणे निष्प्रभ ठरले. सकाळच्या सत्रातील ६.३ षटकांतच त्यांनी तीन गडी

गमावल्याने त्यांचा डाव २३४ धावांत आटोपला. मुश्ताकने तनुष कोटियन (०) आणि तुषार देशपांडे (५), तर सिंधूने उर्विल पटेलला (२५) बाद करत पश्चिम विभागाचा डाव संपुष्टात आणला. मुश्ताकने सामन्यात ९९ धावांत नऊ गडी बाद केले. त्याला सामनावीराच्या पुरस्काराने गौरविण्यात आले. उपांत्य फेरीचे सामने ३० ऑगस्टपासून सुरू होतील. यामध्ये उत्तर विभाग विरुद्ध दक्षिण विभाग आणि पूर्व विभाग विरुद्ध मध्य विभाग अशा लढती होतील.
